Carolyn’s Kids is a 501c3 non-profit Organization created to meet the financial and supplementary needs of elementary aged students in high poverty school communities.

In September 2018 Carrie Lyle Griffin, mother of founder Carolyn Griffin Palmer gained her wings. In her honor this scholarship was created.

Carrie Lyle Griffin valued the importance of education and maintained a strong work ethic. She attended Southern Christian Institute in Edwards, MS., Campbell College and Jackson State College all part time and worked during the day. Her dream of completing college was placed on hold to raise her four children. She continued taking classes to receive certifications and worked a full time job all while raising her four children. She encouraged and supported her children, grand and great grand children as they continued their education receiving their degrees and growing into their careers. Mrs. Griffin attended every commencement and graduation ceremony for all.

In living the mission, CKF offers this award is presented to a mother that is currently pursuing her postsecondary education.
